

RBC Canadian Open

Sunday, June 8, 2025

Caledon, Ontario, Canada

TPC Toronto at Osprey Valley (North Course)

Cameron Young

Quick Quotes

Q. Cameron, great fight out there today.

Unfortunately, it wasn't your day. What are the emotions going through you right now?

CAMERON YOUNG: This very moment, a lot of anger, a bit of frustration. I couldn't have hit two better shots on the last hole. I don't hit 3-wood that far, and it's blowing straight into the wind, and it decided to bounce all the way to the back woods.

I thought in the air I was going to have about a 12-footer to win the tournament, and it ended up somewhere I was going to struggle to make par, let alone make a 4. Pretty upset. Played pretty well. Kind of just want to go home right now.

Q. Form has been up and down for you this year.

What positives can you take from a week like this?

CAMERON YOUNG: I've had a really nice week. I'm hoping this gets me qualified for the British Open. I qualified for the U.S. Open on Monday. I'm playing really nicely. So there are a lot of positives to take from it.

My game is in totally different shape than it was a couple months ago. I've come a very, very long way on execution of all the iron play, in particular. I've been putting really well this year. So nice to see that kind of come back to me. Seems to be giving me some decent chances to have nice tournaments.

Q. Obviously an exhausting day today being right in the thick of it in front of a big crowd. How do you reset mentally ahead of Oakmont?

CAMERON YOUNG: After the next 15 minutes when I'm a little mad, it will be back to business as usual. I'm playing really nicely. I don't think I'll have to reset much. It's kind of just get there and go through what we've been doing and see where that puts us on Sunday.

I feel like all the parts of my game are in a place where I can be in a similar position next week, and I expect to do that.

Q. How do you feel like your game stacks up for Oakmont?

CAMERON YOUNG: I've never been there, so I have no idea. I would assume, if you drive it straight, you've got a better chance than most, and I've been driving really well. So we'll see what happens there.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports

